Manifest Success

Do you know people who always seem to be able to get what they want – and often without lifting a finger? While it may seem like witchcraft, there is no magic involved. These people have simply achieved a balance between their physical and spiritual selves. Finding this harmony can help unlock the psychic abilities that all of us have, and bring us what we want in life. There is a range of approaches to find this balance and there are various different thoughts as to how they work but, as you will see, they all have one thing in common.

Quantum Approach

The scientific approach to this psychic phenomenon is called Quantum Physics. Surprisingly, as a scientific method, it has a lot in common with more spiritual beliefs. Quantum Physicists believe that all matter is merely energy slowed and condensed to a very slow vibration. In this view, humans are seen as bodies of energy that vibrate within the frequencies of their thoughts and emotions. Having positive thoughts, and experiencing positive emotions, sends out and attracts more positive energy, and likewise with negative thoughts and emotions. In order to attract success this way, you must feel and think positively, and look after yourself on all levels.

Law of Manifestation

The Law of Manifestation says that material objects are created by the mind. In order for something to become manifest on Earth, it must first be imagined clearly in the mind's eye. In order to manifest success, you must have a clearly defined idea of what success means to you. One of the best ways to do this is to meditate. This not only helps us gain access to our subconscious and out what success really means to us, it also helps to keep us psychically aligned. Again, in doing all this, it is important to pay attention to your health on all levels.

Law of Magnetism

The Law of Magnetism says that you can only attract things that are vibrating on the same frequency as your feelings and emotions. If you are depressed and feeling low, you will only attract things that vibrate at that frequency. If you are feeling positive and optimistic, you will attract that the same.

The Common Link

The underlying message from these three schools of thought is the same. In order to achieve your full psychic potential and manifest success in whatever form is relevant to you, you must first work to achieve physical and spiritual balance. Much has been written about how to take care of yourself physically. Choosing a good diet and taking regular exercise are the fundamentals of good physical health. In turn, your physical well being will have a positive impact on your spiritual health. We all know that when we are feeling physically low, we tend to feel negative inside. By boosting our physical forms, we also provide a boost to our spiritual selves.

The Adept Mr. Depp

Johnny Depp is arguably one of the most gifted actors of his generation. From an early age, he saw himself as a rebel following a non-conformist lifestyle, and this is reflected in his birth chart.

Fiery Mars and eccentric Uranus are conjunct in his first house, the house of ego. Such a placement can indicate genius, but also hedonism and self-destructive tendencies.

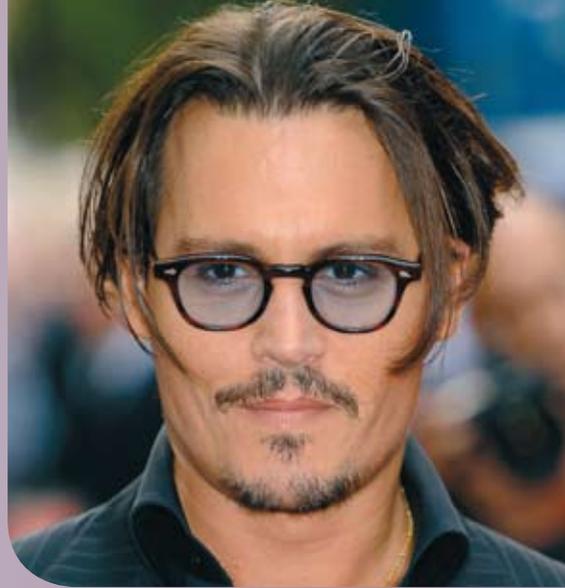

The first three zodiac houses give an insight into our formative years, and Saturn can represent the father figure. Johnny's early life was far from ordinary. His father, John Christopher Depp, was a civil engineer whose work kept him absent. As a result, Johnny formed a close relationship with his grandfather, who he called "Paw Paw" and who in turn called him "Deppity Dawg". Johnny fondly recalls sitting on the porch with him, listening to stories, and sometimes picking tobacco together. It therefore came as a great shock to seven year old Johnny when his grandfather died.

This brought the beginning of a turbulent period for Johnny. Over the next eight years the family moved thirty times, sometimes living in motels. Christopher continued working long hours, and without a father figure to direct him, Johnny went off the rails. He started smoking at 12, lost his virginity at 13 and drinking and drugs soon followed. There were several clashes with the police; it seemed that without a strong Saturnine figure in his life, Johnny would spiral into self-destruction. Johnny describes this period in his own words:

"As a teenager I was so insecure. I was the type of guy that never fitted in because he never dared to choose. I was convinced I had absolutely no talent at all - for nothing. And that thought took away all my ambition too."

It is no wonder that Johnny is able to bring out the inner child of the characters he portrays - the vulnerability of Edward Scissorhands, the man-child of Willy Wonka, and the childish hedonism of Captain Jack Sparrow. Jupiter in Aries gives Johnny the faith and energy of a child, but this needs to be channelled effectively to prevent aimless wandering.

With all of these risky elements in his chart, what held Johnny back from the abyss? A clue is found Pluto, the planet of regeneration or re-invention. This planet is also found near Uranus and Mars, indicating that if he were given the right direction and guidance, Johnny had the ability to turn his life around. His passion as a teenager was music, which is reflected in Venus and Mercury conjunct in Taurus. Shortly after his parents divorced, Johnny quit school and formed a rock band called the Bad Boys, later re-named The Kids. They went on to support famous acts like the Ramones, Talking Heads and Iggy Pop. The band moved to Los Angeles in the hope of securing a recording contract, and Johnny married his first wife Lori at the age of twenty, and it was through her that destiny brought him to Nicolas Cage. Cage introduced him to Wes Craven who cast Johnny in 'Nightmare on Elm Street'. At first, Johnny thought his excursion into acting would be brief, allowing him to support the band, but Hollywood had other ideas. Johnny was propelled into stardom, playing an undercover cop in 21 Jump Street; but he hated the adulation and acted out his inner angry child. His brushes with the law and paparazzi became legendary. It was only when he met Tim Burton, who was casting for Edward Scissorhands, that he found the key to discipline he needed and secretly yearned for.

It is interesting to note that Johnny's Uranus is conjunct Burton's Sun. This is an electrifying alignment, allowing Johnny's unique genius to be channelled through Tim's vision. Johnny's Pluto is also conjunct Tim's Sun. Psychologically, Johnny sees in Tim what his father should have been. This placement of Tim's Sun heals Johnny's troublesome first House conjunction, allowing the Saturn stability to form within. Johnny describes Burton:

"What more can I say about him? He is a brother, a friend, my godson's father. He is a unique and brave soul, someone that I would go to the ends of the earth for, and I know, full and well, he would do the same for me."

Through his long lasting relationship to Vanessa Paradis, Johnny has become a father to a daughter Lily, born in 1999 and a son Jack, born 2002. Around this time Saturn would have travelled around the zodiac and conjoined his natal Saturn. It is a life changing event and seems to have ignited Johnny's Saturn principle of responsibility. He describes it as follows:

"Having kids was a huge change for me. Becoming a father. But I think more than changing, I feel like I've been revealed to myself, I kind of found out who I was. When you meet your child for the first time and you're looking at this angel, you start realizing what an idiot you've been for so many years and how much time you've wasted. As far as being feet-on-the-ground, once again my kids and Vanessa have given me a proper foundation. A sense of home that I never had in my life, a real sense of a place to be."

Although Saturn may be missing externally from our lives it is always there beneath the surface waiting to be discovered within ourselves. Sometimes, as in Johnny's case, that wonderful discovery takes the form of the people and challenges we meet.

Aries (Mar 21 - Apr 19)

At the beginning of the month, your focus rests on health, work, and vigilance in the daily grind. You stand a chance of losing a file or having to do things over again, so be watchful and back up any important projects. This is doubly important as Pluto turns direct in your career zone on the 13th, setting the stage for a full-on career transition. If that weren't enough, a full moon in your sign on the 23rd will magnetize you as the Sun steps into your relationship zone, making a romantic run-in all too likely. It's a good thing you have abundant energy at your disposal!

Taurus (Apr 20 - May 20)

All that glitters is not gold, but don't let that stop you from having a good time - just watch your back when something seems too good to be true! Things come into sharper focus when Mercury turns direct on the 12th. Pluto turning direct in your house of travel, learning and spirituality, heralds a new phase in all of those areas. Embrace the changes and allow yourself to see new places and transform on inner-levels. This will help you keep up with the big changes in your love life too, as your ruling planet Venus saunters into your house of partners on the 8th.

Gemini (May 21 - June 21)

Your ruler Mercury has been backpedalling through your house of home, and you may have found yourself meddling in the past when you'd rather be out embracing the present. Fortunately, the spell is about to be broken, and you'll see an old problem fade away as Mercury turns direct on the 12th. When Venus and Mars change signs around the middle of the month, work feels like play. Your increased motivation and sense of style are bound to impress your colleagues. One of them may even want to get to know you a little better, which might be fun if you are unattached!

The month starts with five planets in retrograde, but Mercury and Pluto turn direct, bringing hidden influences and disguised situations into the light of day.

Call 0800 422 0422 for more details

Libra (Sept 23 - Oct 22)

You know very well that beauty is not skin deep, but there's nothing wrong with a little outward glamour! Go for a new cut, treatment or outfit early in the month while Venus is still in your sign. You'll be glad you did, especially with the drama likely to surface when Mercury turns direct on the 12th. This is likely to bring a skeleton or two out of the closet, and your cool headed instincts will be crucial in keeping things together. The end of the month brings an irresistible attraction as the full moon joins Jupiter in your relationship zone, and the Sun cruises into your sign.

Scorpio (Oct 23 - Nov 21)

You're in for a shake up as far as relationships are concerned, but this can be a good thing. Your ruling planet Mars has been tucked away in your house of secrets, and your inner tides have been a mystery to those around you, not to mention yourself! But Mars boldly enters your sign on the 14th, along with Venus, releasing pent up tensions and allowing you to move forward decisively. A new friend surfaces early in the month and gives valuable advice - put them on speed dial, because when Jupiter backs into your house of love affairs, things get even more interesting.

Sagittarius (Nov 22 - Dec 21)

Your social life continues on a roll for part of the month, but then you're forced to take a step back and re-examine something from the past. This is due to your ruling planet, Jupiter, backing up into your house of home and roots, as well as Venus and Mars entering your house of secrets and hidden influences. A dispute over money is likely, and communication falters until Mercury turns direct on the 12th. The good news? A third party is able to see the situation clearly and give you some valuable advice. Your friends are indispensable this month - be sure to let them know it.

Cancer (June 22 - July 22)

When Pluto and Mercury both turn direct early in the month, it means big things in terms of communication and relationships. Misunderstandings and aggression have found their way between you and someone you care about, but this is a golden opportunity for harmonious resolution. Jupiter transits your career zone, as well as a full moon in the 23rd, and suddenly appearing opportunities will need decisive action. The area of your chart related to pleasure and fun is graced by Venus on the 8th, followed by Mars on the 14th, so get out and satisfy your curious palette.

Leo (July 23 - Aug 22)

With the Sun moving through your money zone for most of the month, joined by a new moon on the 8th, financial matters come to the forefront. In your case, the best strategy is diligence, detail and a charitable outlook. However, put any important moves on hold until the 12th, when Mercury turns direct. Until then, circumstances and fine print are likely to work against you. An important relationship pivots on healthy communication, which is mostly likely to happen in the first half of the month. Pluto turning direct inspires healthy changes in daily routine, which helps you in all other areas.

Virgo (Aug 23 - Sep 22)

Don't despair, Virgo! You have a lot to look forward to. Mercury has been reversing through your sign for three weeks, and you've certainly felt the pinch, especially in terms of your outward appearance and personality. Now, as the communication planet finally turns direct on the 12th, you can shift gears and make up for lost ground. The Sun spends most of the month in your sign, giving an extra boost of energy, and a new moon in your sign doesn't hurt either. Pluto turns direct on the 13th, clearing yet another obstacle and restoring your tired mind to working order.

Misunderstandings have injured your relationships, but this is a golden opportunity for harmonious resolution.

Capricorn (Dec 22 - Jan 19)

Pesky details have been distracting you from the big picture, but you'll have a major swing of positive momentum as Pluto turns direct in your sign, and Mercury turns direct in your house of outlook and learning. Luckily, your zones of career and networking are charged and ready for action as this shift take place - just don't forget to sweep up the debris before you step forward. If you're in a relationship, it needs fresh air. Get on the move together and do something unexpected. If you're single and looking for love, you'll be forced out of your comfort zone if you want to find a real connection.

Aquarius (Jan 20 - Feb 18)

You've likely had some disputes over money with a certain someone, whether a business associate or ex-partner, this has been due in part to Mercury's retrograde. But he turns direct on the 12th, and everything is brought into the light of day. If it goes deeper than just money, you'll see that too, and the way forward will be obvious even if it's not easy. By the end of the month, things will have settled considerably and moved on to more amicable and interesting spaces. What a relief! Work, hobbies and education can resume their normal places in your world.

Pisces (Feb 19 - Mar 20)

You've just not been connecting with your partner these past few weeks, have you? It feels as though there has been a wall between you, but this is about to be demolished. Mercury turns direct in your house of partners even as your ruling planet, Jupiter, backs into your own sign. This opens the floodgates of communication and allows your relationships to heal, while inspiring big changes in your personality and appearance. Still, don't count your chickens before they hatch. Mars and Venus entering Scorpio will test your newfound resolve and keep you on your toes.

10 SPELLS

to find true love

The Moon

Whether you want to attract love, renew it, or move on from an old relationship, using simple spells can be surprisingly helpful. In using spells, always surrender to the Universe, knowing that the best outcome for all involved will manifest.

In order for any spell to be effective it needs to be worked at the right time, which means making use of the phases of the Moon. You can track the Moon's phases within Star Temple, or by doing a simple on-line search.

The New Moon and the waxing Moon are the most potent for planting seeds of desire and encouraging a relationship to blossom and flourish.

At the time of the Full Moon, its impact is at its most powerful and this can be the best time to celebrate love in its fullness, and perhaps to take the relationship to a new level of commitment.

The waning Moon and the Dark Moon phase are excellent however, for priming the end of a relationship and moving on. These are also helpful times for getting rid of unwanted attention, or dispersing negative emotions.

A note of caution - don't visualize a specific person when looking for true love as this violates their free will. Focus instead on the characteristics of your perfect lover. Remember - tune into the moon, and listen to your heart!

Spells to Attract Love

Do these spells on a Friday night, during a new or waxing Moon.

★ You'll need a sheet of good quality paper, your favourite perfume, a red marker pen, an envelope, some red lipstick and red or pink flower petals. Write the characteristics of your ideal lover on the piece of paper then spray it with perfume and place it in the envelope (okay boys, this may not be one for most of you!). Then hold the petals in your right hand and envisage being happy and in love. Drop the petals into the envelope, seal it and apply red lipstick and kiss the envelope. Place it in a secret place and never open it again.

★ Buy six pink candles and anoint them with oil containing both rose and geranium. Place the candles in a circle. Place sprigs of basil in a bowl of fresh water as an offering to Aphrodite. Light the candles and some incense and as you do, repeat the incantation, "Love I bid thee come. Come with the tides of the Moon. So mote it be". Start on a Friday and use the same candles and meditate on the qualities of your lover to be. Do this every day, until the following Thursday.

★ This next spell is both bewitching and relaxing (and fine for you boys) as it involves taking a love bath. The love bath is not for cleansing however, but for creating the intention to find true love. Put into the bath a few drops of good quality rose oil and orange oil, some red or pink rose petals, and the herbs dill and lovage. Soak in the bath and dream up a vision of your ideal lover. Repeat as often as necessary during the waxing Moon phase.

Spells to Keep Love Alive

The following spells celebrate existing love and enhance desire and should be done at the time of the Full Moon.

★ Gather together some lavender as well as rose and ylang ylang oils and sprinkle on the two pillows of both you and your lover. Between the pillows place red and pink rose heads. If you buy small rose heads you can place them in a heart-shape. Do this in the days preceding the Full Moon. On the Full Moon itself, place a vase of fresh roses in your bedroom. Enjoy a glass of wine together and entwine your arms and drink from one another's cups.

★ Take a love bath together. Fill the bath with intoxicating scents and herbs. Spend a long time soaking in the tub and dreaming up a happy and fulfilling future. On the night of the Full Moon make it a special occasion by lighting candles and drinking wine.

★ Cleanse and program a piece of Rose Quartz on the Full Moon. To cleanse it place the Rose Quartz in a salt bath overnight to clear away unwanted vibrations. To program it, hold the quartz in your left hand and imagine you and your lover enjoying good health and happiness for years to come. Carry the Rose Quartz with you to help love blossom and ward off any negativity. Remember to repeat this process every month to make sure the vibrations of the rose quartz remain strong and positive.

★ Take rose petals and scatter them into a bowl of water. Light two white candles that have been anointed with cinnamon oil. Once again use your Rose Quartz in your left hand and empower it with gratitude and joy for the love of your life. Place the quartz in the bowl of water and petals and leave them there until the next Full Moon – empowering it whenever you want. Take the quartz and petals and bury them at the base of an apple tree. Give thanks for the blessings of love.

Spells to Move On

These spells are best done at the time of the waning Moon and the dark of the Moon and before it becomes New, once more.

★ Visualize the person you wish to separate from. In your mind's eye place your hand on their heart and let them know you are willing to let them go. Ask their angels and guides to take them away and help them find their true happiness. Ask them to cut any binding cords or ties. Write your feelings on a piece of paper, then burn it and bury it. Keep doing this ritual until the relationship has dissolved.

★ Purchase some rock salt. Cleanse them by smudging them with incense. Program them by holding them in your hand and asking that they help you clear negative energies within and around you, caused by the ending of the relationship. Situate them around the inside edge of your shower basin and shower until they dissolve completely.

Valentine's Day

★ On the eve of Valentine's Day, light a pink candle etched with hearts, and as it burns, actively invite love into your life. Do this until the candle has burnt out. Then put an apple, preferably a Pink Lady, under your bed on a plate decorated with a lace doily and other tokens of love. Ask the spirit of the apple to bring your lover-to-be into your dreams that night.

READER PROFILE JEANNIE

When did you first realise you were psychic?

I was aware as a child that I was psychic but did not have a name for it. I was also aware of spirit as a child and assumed that everyone had what I now know is a 'gift'. My grandmother taught me how to read playing cards, like one reads the tarot. I used to read for the dinner ladies at primary school and my predictions would come true. I predicted that one dinner lady would come into an unexpected some of money and when this came about she bought me a big bag of sweets - so it didn't go unrewarded.

Have you had any great experiences with a customer who you have read for?

I often have great experiences with the people that I read for. The part of my work that I feel is most rewarding is when I connect someone to a loved one that they have lost to spirit. It is not unusual for me to get information that is personal to their loved ones and they know that I have no way of knowing. It is sometimes possible to get a persons name or the name of someone connected to them. Sometimes when we struggle to get information that spirit are trying to give us they help us in the strangest of ways. I was once reading for a lady who had lost her young daughter and I was struggling to pick up the child's name. I asked spirit to help me and just then my phone beeped, (I had put my phone on silent before starting my shift, so it shocked me) I looked at the name on the phone and it said Vicky. I gave the name to the woman and it was indeed the name of her daughter.

What makes a good psychic reading?

In my opinion the most important quality in a reader is honesty. Anybody can tell someone what they want to hear, but only the truth will set us free. There is no insight in having insight if we are not completely honest about what we see. The future is never fixed - a good reader can tell you about the different paths or opportunities that lie ahead and the likely outcome of taking certain paths.
